1. DEFINITIONS

Annuity payment is a payment in case of which the borrower's monthly payment to the bank (the total of repayment of the loan amount and interest payment) is equal until the final repayment date, except for the last payment in the payment schedule differing from others due to rounding.

Current Account is the current account from which financial liabilities shall be discharged. The payments arising from the loan agreement are, first of all, paid from the current account set out in the principal terms and conditions of the agreement (or in a later application submitted by the borrower in a format that can be reproduced in writing). If there is not enough money in the aforesaid current account, the financial liabilities will also be performed from the other current account(s) of the borrower.

Payment schedule is the repayment schedule of the loan amount and interest, drawn up on the basis of the terms and conditions of the agreement. The payment schedule provides the amounts, number and due dates of payments.

Price list is the bank's price list that is available in the bank's service halls or website. The price list is amended pursuant to the procedure set out in the bank's general conditions.

Interest is a fee payable by the borrower to the bank for the use of loan amount.

Interest rate is the amount of interest given as a percentage.

Third person is any natural or legal person who is not a party to the agreement.

Total credit cost is the sum of the loan amount, the interest payable until the final repayment date and the agreement fee. The total credit cost does not include any fees payable to the bank by the borrower in the case of a breach of his or her obligations arising from the agreement. Upon amendment of the agreement, the total credit cost shall be calculated on the basis of the conditions effective upon making the amendment of the agreement.

Percentage rate of charge is given as a percentage of the loan amount and it expresses the burden of expenses (the interest, the agreement fee) arising for the borrower from the loan amount per year. The percentage rate of charge is calculated as of the entry into the agreement or making an amendment to the agreement and it is valid only if the final repayment date is not changed and the parties perform their contractual obligations by the agreed time and on the agreed terms and conditions. Upon calculation of the percentage rate of charge, the bank uses the formula approved by the Minister of Finance of the Republic of Estonia on the basis of the requirements of the European Union.

Borrower is a natural person whom the bank grants a loan. If there is more than one borrower, all the borrowers shall be solidarily liable before the bank for performing the agreement (i.e. the bank may require the performance of obligations arising from the agreement from all the borrowers jointly or from all or any of them) and for the purposes of the agreement and the standard conditions of the small loan agreement they shall jointly and severally be referred to as “the borrower”.

Loan amount is the amount of money granted by the bank to the borrower's disposal on the basis of the agreement.

Agreement is a loan agreement concluded between the bank and the borrower. Relations not regulated by the loan agreement shall be subject to the standard conditions of the small loan agreement applicable at the moment of entry into the loan agreement or making an amendment thereto and relations not regulated by the standard conditions shall also be subject to the general terms and conditions of the bank.
